FROM THE PRESIDENT

WIND FROM THE SEA

A special exhibit at the National Gallery of Art highlighted paintings by Andrew Wyeth. Titled "Looking Out, Looking In," the paintings all featured windows, often only a single window, with a notable absence of human figures. The most famous of these "window" pictures, "Wind from the Sea," is typical of many Wyeth interiors: a shabby room, chipped wood sill and fading walls, a cracked window shade partially obscuring...

SCENT OF WATER

4TH-5TH GRADERS EXPLORE

From 4th-5th grades teacher Tess Quinn's weekly report: We had a fun week exploring South America. Our lettuce, arugula, snow peas, and flowers had sprouted over break. We planted potatoes on Tuesday. Our garden is growing! This week we practiced our physical and political geography of South America. They are responsible for knowing the 12 countries, surrounding oceans, and major geographical landmarks...

MUSICAL DEBUT MAY 18

From Boots & Roots teacher Janine Buser's weekly report: Boots & Roots has an exciting opportunity for a musical debut. We have been invited to participate in the opening song of the SOW Campus production of The Tempest on Thursday, May 18 (1:30 and 7 pm at Calvary Church in Annandale). We will be joining in the chorus of the song, Rain, which we'll start practicing during Welcoming after Easter break...
